Preserving Cultural Heritage

ECPN is a forum and network for those just learning about or entering the field of conservation, including undergraduate students, pre-program individuals, graduate students, and early-career conservation professionals.

We do this by...

- ◇ Developing targeted programming and resources to support emerging conservation professionals transitioning through early career stages.
- ◇ Connecting emerging conservation professionals with educational and professional development opportunities.
- ◇ Fostering communication between emerging and experienced conservation professionals.
- ◇ Advocating on behalf of and supporting the inclusion of emerging professionals within AIC.
- ◇ Engaging in initiatives to promote inclusivity, equity, and diversity in the field.
- ◇ Encouraging members to engage in outreach activities, advocacy work, and professional service.
